SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

Alexis Breeden

What's your greatest memory of playing?

Running through the halls at Rochester tournaments.

What advice would you give your younger self?

Don't be afraid to make mistakes.

Who helped you become who you are today?

My family, teammates, and coaches have all pushed me to grow into the person I am today.

What are your plans after graduation?

Attend Lakeland University to study psychology and continue my basketball career.

Izzy Runk

What's your greatest memory of playing?

Winning in overtime on senior night against Lakeville South.

What advice would you give your younger self?

One bad game doesn't define who you are.

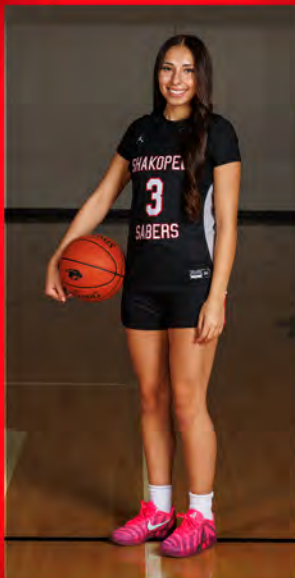

Who helped you become who you are today?

My aunt Jenni

What are your plans after graduation?

Attend Iowa State University to study kinesiology (pre-pt) to become a physical therapist specializing in athletes.

Rosita Rodriguez

What's your greatest memory of playing?

My greatest memories come from the people I've met through basketball that are important to me. Also, the feeling of energy in the gym, the pressure, and adrenaline rush.

What advice would you give your younger self?

Find confidence and don't hold back because you'll regret never taking the chance.

Who helped you become who you are today?

My AAU coaches and sisters have shaped me into the player I am today and have made a big difference in my life with constantly pushing me, having confidence in me and providing support.

What are your plans after graduation?

I plan to continue playing and grow as an athlete, and attend college to study sports medicine and science to help other athletes.

Sadie Hall

What's your greatest memory of playing?

Playing with my best friends through all the years and all the bus rides and team dinners.

What advice would you give your younger self?

Trust the process and trust God through all the ups and downs.

Who helped you become who you are today?

My parents have helped me become who I am today the most as they have constantly been there to support me through everything. I wouldn't be where I am without them.

What are your plans after graduation?

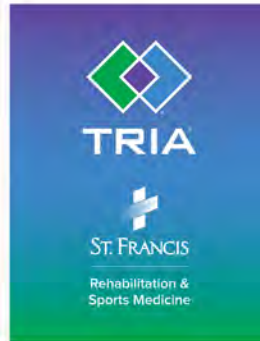

I'm planning to play D1 basketball at Houston Christian University, then go to grad school to become an orthopedic physician assistant.
